1.0 PROJECT BACKGROUND

The Office of Research and Development's (ORD's) National Exposure Research Laboratory (NERL) provides methods, measurements and models to assess and predict humans and ecosystems exposure to harmful pollutants through research and development. One of the tools used for measuring occurrence of waterborne bacterial and viral pathogens and indicators is the Most Probable Number (MPN) statistics. ORD developed a FORTRAN based MS-DOS Most Probable Number Calculator Software Program (MPN.exe) in the 1980s to calculate MPN values and 95% confidence limits for bacterial analyses. ORD assisted the Office of Water in the development of an Information Collection Rule (ICR) in the 1990s which required large drinking water utilities to analyze total culturable viruses in their source waters. The MPN program was modified during this time to calculate MPN estimates of concentrations of infectious virus particles. In 2009 the program was upgraded to run in a Windows environment by Avineon, Inc., 4825 Mark Center Drive, Suite 700, Alexandria, VA 22311-1846 under EPA Contract Number GS-35F-0018J, Task Order Number 1517. The new version 1.0 EPA-MPN program gave MPN values that are identical to those of Table 9221.IV in Standard Methods for the Examination of Water and Wastewater (20th Edition, American Public Health Association, Washington, D.C.), but gave different answers from the original programs under several conditions. Avineon, Inc. was tasked to correct this problem and did so by developing version 2.0 of the software.

Over the past year a number of users have upgraded to 64-bit operating systems and these users have reported that version 2.0 of the program gives them an SQL error upon installation. This presumably occurs because 64-bit operating systems require the 64-bit Microsoft SQL server while the program calls for the 32-bit server version.

2.0 PROJECT SCOPE

The scope of this project is to create a new EPA-MPN program version that will run on 64-bit computers and operating systems while maintaining the current functionality of version 2.0 of the program. The contractor shall modify, test, and supply setup.exe, the corresponding .msi installation file, and all new source code to the U.S. EPA. This will allow ORD to offer both the 32- and 64-bit versions on their web site.

The project shall not exceed 26 hours of labor.

4.0 PROJECT DELIVERABLES

The deliverables for this project:

- A setup.exe installation file that will install EPA-MPN program on 64-bit computers running 64-bit operating systems, such as Windows 7 and Windows 8, containing all the functionality of the current version 2.0.
- A "EPA-MPN-Setup.msi" installation version of the program modified for 64-bit machines as above.
- All source code for the modified version.
